Greenley's Junior School Welcome Pack for New Governors

Dear

Welcome to our governing body. We are delighted that you have agreed to be a school governor. We hope that you will enjoy working with us to help the school to provide the best possible opportunities for our pupils.

This pack has been put together by governors and we hope it will give you useful guidance in the early stages of your governorship and help you to become, and to feel, part of our team.

The Clerk to the Governing Body will also send you an induction pack and Governor's Guide to the Law which, together with information from the school, will help you through the first stages of your governorship.

Some of the content may be very unfamiliar to you as much has changed in education since we were all in school, but given training and support from the rest of the team it will all begin to fall into place. You can access excellent local and national support for governors on line, for example; www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/mkgovernors and www.nga.org.uk

The full governing body meets once a term; and all the current governors are also members of one (or more) committees which meet at other times to discuss issues in depth and report back to the full governing body.

You will be invited to join one (or more!) committees as soon as you feel able to, and you're welcome to go along to any of these meetings to get to know what goes on and to help you decide where you would be happiest to make a contribution.

We look The main point to remember is that we were all new at one time! We welcome questions and discussion of points that may be puzzling to you – they may be matters we all want to know about as well, or they could be issues that we have worked out and we can explain them to you. We look forward to seeing you at our next meeting.

Best wishes.

Yours sincerely

Getting to know the Governing Body and the school.

To begin with, we want to help you get to know the rest of the governors, so soon after your election or appointment, the Chair/Vice Chair will contact you and fill you in on when the next meeting is and what will be happening at it.

The Headteacher / Chair will also arrange to give you a tour of the school and introduce you to the staff, as well as giving you copies of any relevant written material.

You will find the school web-site an excellent source of information, do visit us at:
www.greenleysjunior.org

You are very welcome to visit the school and become involved in activities. It is best to make prior arrangements with staff, as they can be quite busy and it helps them prepare any information in advance. The reception team are always very helpful in helping to contact staff or the leadership team.

If you would like to help with the children in school, please contact a member of the Senior Leadership Team to arrange a time that suits you both.

Training

As we strongly encourage governors to participate in training, we have 'bought into' the MK Council's development package for governors. This allows all of us to attend as many training courses as we like each term, we also receive whole governing body training sessions on topic of our choice.

The Foundation course for newly appointed governors is strongly recommended to you as a new governor. It provides a good all round look at the many aspects of being a governor and it also enables you to meet other people in the same position.

You will receive a copy of the Council's Governor Development Programme twice a year – please keep our development governor, informed of what courses you have attended as he co-ordinates our training.

We usually report back (briefly) on courses we've attended at the next full governors' meeting, and copy any materials given out at the training if they maybe of general use.

Meetings

The whole Governing body and its committees meet at least once a term. Each Governing body has a clerk, ours is Fiona Vines, who arranges the meetings, circulates the agenda and background papers, takes minutes and supports the governing body in numerous ways. Your chair and vice-chair are elected each year at the first full meeting in the autumn term from among those governors who are not employed at the school.

Your governing body may delegate specific tasks to committees but, ultimately, all governors have collective responsibility for the decisions that are taken. The chair can only act alone in a real emergency, when there is not time to call a special meeting.

Preparing for Meetings:

As a new governor the following guidance may be useful:

- Be clear about the remit of the meeting.
- Read papers that are sent out before the meeting.
- Order your file to correspond to the order of the agenda.
- Make a note of any questions and areas that you don't understand.
- Ensure that you have completed any tasks that you were asked to do.
- Make a note of any involvement that you have had with the school in order to record your action within the minutes. This will demonstrate and evidence base how well the governing body know the school and reflect the level of involvement.
- Accept a share of the responsibility for work required.
- Ask challenging questions, e.g. 'What difference has this made?'
- Reflect on the meeting and note what could have been done differently and what went well.

Roles and Responsibilities of the School Governor

'Governors are most effective when they are fully involved in the school's self-evaluation and use the knowledge gained to challenge the school, understand its strengths and weaknesses and contribute to shaping its strategic direction.

Her Majesty's Chief Inspector's Annual Report for 2009/10

A governing body has three primary strategic responsibilities:

- To provide strategic direction for the school
- To act as a critical friend to the Headteacher
- To ensure accountability

They also carry out a number of other important duties, which include:

- Monitoring standards in the school
- Agreeing and monitoring targets for pupil performance
- Making sure that the National Curriculum is taught and that the needs of all pupils, including those with additional needs, are met
- Agreeing aims and developing policies for the school
- Monitoring how the school's budget is spent
- The appointing and dismissing of staff
- Hearing appeals and grievances
- Setting standards for pupils' behaviour and discipline
- Making sure school buildings are welcoming and safe
- Setting and monitoring the school's aims and policies
- Keeping parents and the local community informed about the work of the school

In order to fulfil your responsibilities you will be expected to:

- Attend meetings of the full governing body
- Be an active member of one or more Committees or Working Parties which look in more detail at particular aspects of the school's work
- Join other governors in attending training and development sessions on the roles and responsibilities of governors
- Be a positive and supportive ambassador for the school
- Visit the school occasionally during the school day, to see how the governing body's policies are being implemented and to get to know the staff and pupils better
- Be a good team player: to respect the confidentiality of governing body discussions and to be loyal to the corporate decisions you take
- Seek information and clarification in order to ensure that the school provides the highest possible quality of education
- Be involved in making strategic decisions that contribute to long-term development in the school
- Help to systematically monitor their school's progress towards meeting agreed development targets
- Support honest, insightful self-evaluation by the school; recognising problems and supporting the steps needed to address them.
- Contribute to reflections on the governing body's own effectiveness

'Holding the School Accountable'

As a governor it can be challenging to make accurate judgements about the school's effectiveness and to contribute to school improvement. There is a wealth of guidance available locally and nationally. It is key to ask testing questions and to seek firm evidence on which to make judgements.

Protocols for Governor Visits

Introduction

As stated, the governing body has a duty to oversee the direction and policies of the school, to monitor its standards and be held to account for its conduct and performance. Visiting the school is the best way to increase the governing body's first-hand knowledge and inform strategic decision making.

Visits should generally relate to the priorities determined by the School Improvement Plan. The governing body should plan visits to cover a wide range of school work and each visit should be agreed and have a clear purpose. Governors should arrange their visits with the head teacher who has the responsibility of the day-to-day management of the school.

Purposes of visits

For Governors

- To recognise and celebrate success
- To develop relationships with the staff and pupils
 - To recognise different teaching styles
 - To understand the environment in which teachers teach
 - To monitor policies in action
 - To inform decision making
 - To find out what resources are needed and prioritise them

For Teachers:

- To ensure governors understand the reality of the classroom
- To get to know governors
- To understand better the governors' roles and responsibilities
- To have an opportunity to reflect on practice through discussion
- To highlight the need for particular resources

What a visit is not about

- A form of inspection to make judgements about professional expertise of the teacher
- Checking on progress of own children
- Pursuing personal agenda
- Monopolising school/teacher time

Protocols for visits

1) Preparing for a visit

Check that the purpose of the visit is clear and is linked to the school's development/Improvement Plan. What are the relevant school Policies? Discuss an agenda with the Headteacher, subject co-ordinator and or class teacher well in advance. Make sure that the date chosen is suitable. Discuss with the staff if any supporting information is available – Ofsted report, improvement plan, performance data. Be clear beforehand exactly what you are looking for. Try to prepare questions and submit to staff in advance.

2) During the Visit

The Governor will:

- Visit on behalf of the governing body
- Remember it is not an inspection
- Be punctual.
- Keep to the agreed timetable but be flexible.
- Decide with the teacher how you will be introduced and what your role in the classroom will be.
- Get involved with the children
- Observe discretely.
- Not distract the teacher during the lesson from his/her work but be prepared to talk and show interest.
- Be courteous, friendly not critical.
- Interact but not interrupt.
- Retain focus on the purpose of the visit.
- Listen to staff and pupils.
- Ensure that the visit is no longer than agreed

The Teacher will:

- Decide with the governor what their role will be
- Introduce the Governor to the children and any other adults that are present
- Make a chair available
- Interact with governor explaining what is happening in the lesson or activity
- Encourage the governor to talk with the children
- Make any relevant documents available

3) After the visit

Governors should thank the staff and pupils for supporting their role. The governor and teacher should discuss what has been observed and use the opportunity to clarify any issues that are unclear. For example, did the visit have any impact on the atmosphere in the classroom? If so, how? Refer to the purpose of the visit. Consider together whether it has been achieved.

The governor should feed back to the Headteacher in the first instance, then write a short summary 'as a lay governor' of what was learned during the visit and the overall impression that was made. A draft should be circulated to the head and any staff involved for them to check the accuracy and clarity. The aim is to achieve a report that is agreed by those involved prior to circulating at the next appropriate committee/governing body meeting.

Reports should be honest and positive; outlining successes, any questions and areas of concern and recording any suggestions. Governors should reflect how the visit has enhanced relationships and the effectiveness of the Governing Body.

Visit Focus

Although not an exhaustive list visits may focus on:

- Particular subjects, key stages or classes
- Attainment standards
- The use made of the buildings or the site
- The condition and maintenance of the premises
- Special educational needs
- The use of ICT equipment
- The impact on the school of any changes e.g. reduced classes in a key stage

- Relative numbers of questions and responses to the teacher from boys to girls

The visit can take various forms:

- Attending a whole lesson or activity session
- Snapshots of several lessons
- Pupil interviews
- Walks around the school
- Meetings with subject or Year Group Leaders
- Looking at pupil's work

Informal Visits

Visits may also take place in an informal capacity, such as;

- The chair making a regular visit to see the head teacher
- To lend a helping hand with a school event
- To get information from the office relating to a committee meeting
- To help in a class
- To speak to a teacher in relation to your own child
- Attend a school function or educational visit

It is important that the purpose is clear and distinct from a formal visit.
